Letter from New York

THE STATE [illegible] POLITICAL GOSSIP [illegible]

New York, Aug [illegible] 1868.

The sudden death of Gen Halpine (Miles O'Reilly) is the event of the week. On Monday when I went to my breakfast I first heard the news of the sad occurrence, and like many others was [illegible] credit it. Two days before I met Gen Halpine at the [illegible] office and [illegible] his appearance of vigorous health [illegible] When the fact of his death was announced at the [illegible] office Mr Greeley refused to believe it and would not be convinced until he visited the Register's office and heard the announcement from Gen Halpine's deputy. On receiving the confirmation of what he had regarded as an idle rumor Mr Greeley who dearly loved Halpine [illegible] tears and left [illegible] silent and full of sorrow to the seclusion of his private office. Probably there was no other man in New York who could sway the sympathies of Mr Greeley and Mr Bennett—those opposites in nearly everything professional and personal—as the soldier poet, whose name has become famous throughout the country. Leading the chequered life of a politician in New York Gen Halpine succeeded in doing what no other man has done in maintaining to the last the friendship of the two veteran editors, who have fought a thirty years war in the journalistic field and [illegible] few opportunities to assail each others principles, conduct and affiliations. The columns of the Tribune and Herald were open to him, and he was a frequent contributor of editorials to both papers. You remember the Miles O'Reilly letters from the South that made him famous on their publication in the Herald and considerably puzzled the authorities at Washington. Mr Lincoln in the goodness of his heart ordered that the imaginary Miles should be set at liberty and laughed very heartily over the joke when it was explained to him. The author used to regret sometimes that Miles O'Reilly had become better known than Gen Halpine and said there were many persons in New York who knew him only by his pseudonym and believed it to have been his baptismal name. With his talents as a writer of prose and poetry, his love of sociality, his ability to entertain, and his fondness for political life and the acquaintances it makes General Halpine had made a large circle of friends in and around the city and his death has carried mourning to many hearts.

The political caldron is beginning to simmer. I mean the Democratic State one and in a very short time it will be fairly on the boil. The Democratic State Committee meets this week at Utica under the shadow of Gov Seymour's presence for the purpose of arranging the plan for the autumnal campaign and fixing the time and place for the State Convention. The Democrats were troubled about the proper choice for candidate for Governor and the word of Seymour will go a great way with them. John T Hoffman, Henry C Murphy and Sandford E Church are the most prominent names before the Democracy, the city of New York favoring Hoffman, Brooklyn favoring Murphy and the Democrats along the line of the New York Central Railway being especially biased in favor of Church. Hoffman has the best chance of nomination, the city Democrats being very influential in conventions and slate making, and quite as energetic as they are influential. Sandford E Church will show considerable strength and as the New York Central Railway is largely in his favor he has the next chance to Hoffman and possibly an even one with him. The object of the Democrats is to combine the State and National tickets in such a way as to draw out the greatest possible strength of the party. Seymour has one sort of influence, and will hold certain classes of Democrats, and the managers, with a Gubernatorial candidate who can control the Democratic influence hostile to Seymour and draw to himself the disaffected Republicans. Hoffman will do this quite as well as any other man, and for this reason in addition to his being a New Yorker, he stands a good chance of preferment.

The Democrats are working hard to control the Germans, whose Sunday and late evening amusements have been interfered with by our excise laws and who are not believed to love the Republicans any too well in consequence. They claim to believe and I think they are not far out of the way that the Republican Legislature has driven a great many Germans out of its ranks by denying them lager on Sundays, or after twelve o'clock at night. There is a proverb which says you cannot argue with a hungry man and I do not see why it should not include a thirsty one as well. Touch a German New Yorker in his beer mug and you touch him very heavily as one can see by the prosperity of the German Democratic Clubs that are now being organized. The Republicans are waking up to the necessity of working among the Germans and have commenced the formation of Clubs and the distribution of documents. Of course New York City will go largely Democratic, the Seymour men claiming that they will increase their majority and the Grant men claiming that it will be less this year than last. The result will depend upon the action of the Germans and hence the energy of the canvass among them.

I noticed last week the killing or wounding of thirteen policemen at the hands of roughs during the month of July, and the feeling produced by this recklessness on the part of the dangerous classes. The month of August begins with the stabbing of a policeman by a drunken rowdy, the wounds being likely to prove mortal. As [illegible] we shall get very soon, in this city of New York to the practice of lynch law and have the lower courts to deal with other cases than those offences against life and society. Practically the law is of comparatively small protection as now administered unless it be for the protection of the criminal, and this is the case in more courts than the lower ones. Some time ago a friend of mine had occasion to go to law, and engaged two of the most prominent advocates in the city. Very naturally as he was verdant he at once proceeded to [illegible] the merits of his case and the points he expected to prove. He was surprised to find that the [illegible] little heed to the facts but were [illegible] the court where the case [illegible] We must manage to bring it before Judge A[illegible] said the older of the lawyers. [illegible] asked the client. That would never do at all, was the reply. Judge [illegible] is a candidate for the office of [illegible] and wants the influence of the man you are fighting. [illegible] and we don't want to run any risk.

[illegible] the lawyers was not upon the merits of the case to be tried but upon the likes and dislikes of the judges before whom it might [illegible] justice was expected to [illegible] and my friend was kept very [illegible] in the dark as to [illegible] He was told to keep quiet [illegible] himself about the matter and it would be satisfactorily arranged. [illegible] the [illegible] being decided in his favor with little more than a superficial examination. The Judge listened to [illegible] those lawyers and [illegible] I do not tell this story [illegible] regularity but rather to illustrate the way of managing legal matters in New York. [illegible] there is no other city in the United States where there is so much [illegible] in judicial circles as in New York and none where there is greater opportunity and [illegible] for [illegible]

To the [illegible] building workmen are preparing the [illegible] New York [illegible] which he has decided to issue about two weeks hence, and make a two cent evening paper. His original intention was to [illegible] [illegible] very blue vitriol mass and while it satisfies some it will assuredly disgust others. The [illegible] feared a loss of circulation when the new paper was first announced but as the sheet will be a cheap one and comes out in the afternoon its effects will be mainly upon the Telegram and Daily News.

DISGUSTED DEMOCRATS.—The Cincinnati West and South, a Democratic paper, finds the Democrats of Ohio and Indiana of various minds about the nomination. It prints a letter accepting the nomination of Seymour and Blair and [illegible]

With Milligan's letter we give extracts of others to show the various minds of the Democracy upon the crisis.

JAMESTOWN (Boone county, Ind.) July 15th.—I want to hear from you about the Bond holders Convention. The nominations are disgusting and many loudmouths say they will not support them. What will the true Democracy do? Shall we have a third ticket or stay at home? Many will do one or the other.

HURTLAND (Ohio) July 12th.—The New York Convention have, in my opinion, made a very unwise nomination for the Vice Presidency. I think the indications of the political horizon portend certain defeat of the milk and water ticket this Fall. It therefore seems to me that the sterling Democracy ought not longer delay demonstrating to the policy mongering, plunder loving, office hungering ring leaders in terms which they cannot fail to understand that we will not give our support to any untried or doubtful man.

I would therefore suggest that the true Democracy call a Convention and select for candidates bona fide representative men. I for my part should like to know how many true Democrats there are. Another gentleman writes us from Indiana a private letter of which we print an extract without permission, and therefore do not give his name nor place.

I am a States Rights Democrat to the following extent. I believe in radical Democracy of the Jefferson school. I would, had I the power, repudiate the great national swindle. But the people are not ready for repudiation. Hence I am in favor of the Pendleton plan. I believe with you except so far as your opposition to greenback payment extends in all the political issues. We must take the people as we find them, not as we would have them. I cannot support the bond holders New York candidates, Seymour and Blair. Belmont is again Chairman of the Central Committee and at the end of four years more we will just be where we are now. Let there be a Convention if only composed of thirty men. Start the party on its true principles. Now is the accepted time. What say you.

OUR INDICTMENT OF SEYMOUR—GUILT CONFESSED.—Horatio Seymour stands indicted for

1. Inciting to riot.
2. Yielding to rioters their demands on the Government, at the peril of the nation.
3. Threatening the President of the United States with the disorderly violence of "the people" if he proceeded in the efforts vitally necessary to the salvation of the Union.

Horatio Seymour is confessedly, therefore, a fomenter of sedition, a champion of rioters, a menacer of Government.

A fomenter of sedition, in that he told the turbulent masses of New York City that a mob had an equal right with the Government to proclaim the law of public necessity.

A champion of rioters, in that he espoused their cause, said that they should be satisfied, and demanded of the Government that the draft should be suspended and stopped at their violent behest.

A menacer of Government, in that he warned it of the temper of the people if it did not yield to him and his riotous friends.

And all this criminal disregard of the imminent peril in which his country and its defenders were placed at the time.

Here are the counts and the evidence in this grave indictment. We have asked the Argus to defend Horatio Seymour, and it utterly refuses to do so. The plea of guilty is entered. What friend of order will say that such a man will be made President of the United States?—Albany N Y Journal.

BLAIR'S FENIAN SPEECH.—The Alta, 24th inst says:

The Morning Call publishes a letter from Montgomery Blair to Captain Thomas Gray, in which Mr Blair denounces as ridiculous the widely circulated speech which Frank made to the Fenians of St Louis in 1866, abusing them and advising them to go home. Mr Montgomery Blair does not say that Frank did not make the speech, but it is ridiculous to impute such a speech to him, because he has made speeches to Fenians. That is true; this very speech was made to Fenians, and if he has advocated their cause it is because he has advocated every cause beneath the sun ever since he was of age. Such a notorious office seeker as every Blair is born to be must at some time in his life have spoken favorably of the Fenians. The most ludicrous attempt to shift the responsibility of the "Finnigan speech" from Blair is that which puts it on James K. Polk. That gentleman, as it happened, died before Fenianism was ever heard of, and could never have even been accused of making the St Louis speech or one like it. It is a true bill, and Mr Frank Blair will never deny that he made it. Montgomery Blair does not say so. Would he be believed if [illegible]

The most remarkable feature in the campaign thus far is the increasing boldness and prominence of the Southern Democratic politicians. They are exhibiting all the indiscretion which spoiled their game in 1865, and have thrown off the reserve which they seem to have imposed on themselves after Mr Johnson's defeat in his conflict with Congress, and which they managed to keep up during the earlier part of the proceedings of the Convention here. We hear now a good deal of the [illegible] talk of resistance of the bayonet, and [illegible] comes from men, too, such as Wise and Wade Hampton and Forrest, whose political career most of us supposed was closed when they surrendered. The chances are however that they will do enough of this kind of thing to make it not only harmless but highly useful to the Republican party. The Southern politicians seem to possess the art in the highest perfection of ruining their own cause.—The Nation.

The Mobile Register (Seymour and Blair) speaking of the rebel yell in Tammany Hall when the selection of Seymour was announced, says:

Political Brevities.

Seymour said that if he accepted the Democratic nomination, he was a dishonored man. He accepted.

The Wade Hampton, Cobb, and T[illegible] speeches in favor of Seymour and Blair are having the same effect upon the Democratic party that the guns of Sumter had—a dissolving effect.

The Memphis Avalanche (Seymour and Blair), says: "As an original [illegible], we are willing to abide by and acquiesce in the judgment pronounced upon the late 'wager of battle;' but in case the American people should grant a new trial in the case, either by ballot or bullet, we do not wish to be estopped by any [illegible] admissions.

In General Blair's farewell order to his army corps he recommended confiscating the property of the Southern people, and dividing it among the Northern soldiers. Now he complains that the Southern rebels are not allowed to rule the country. Then he thought the Southerners should be stripped of their property. Now he threatens revolution against laws that deprive prominent traitors of office holding.

As the Democratic Legislature of Ohio, has disfranchised all the wounded Union soldiers in Ohio, in hospitals, and the students of college, they anticipate carrying that State, but such acts have greatly injured their prospects and turned the State dead against them by at least 40,000. To disfranchise men who risked their lives to save our country, and the most intelligent young men of the State, don't speak well for any party but the rebels themselves would not be so mean to white men.

Mrs. E. Cady Stanton visited her mother a few days since. The old lady objected to her for not criticising the Democrats as she did the Republicans. Mrs Stanton tried to explain how the poor things were harrassed and perplexed in trying to make a hard-cash candidate stand on a greenback platform; how through those hot July days, with the prespiration pouring down their anxious, care-worn faces, they tried to dovetail these incongruous elements together, how Seymour suffered and fainted when nominated. The old lady was inexorable. "Pshaw!" cried she, with a gesture of contempt, "If Seymour hadn't the strength to stand a nomination, how will he stand a defeat?"

"A Dayton Jew" writes to the Journal of that city: "I feel it. I have heard from my Jewish friends that no honorable Jew would vote for Grant. I have only to say that those who make use of such language are very ignorant, so far as honor is concerned—more honorable ones. There are men of my faith who, I am sorry to say, have nothing better than Order No. 11. I, for one, as a true Israelite, can give my vote to the interests of my country, and therefore must put in my vote for the man who saved the country, and that man is Ulysses S Grant. I have seen an article in the Cincinnati Enquirer from a Jew in this city who signs his name in full. He is the only Jew in the State who opens such wide mouth against Grant. But things are changing. Remember, we will show them in November who Ulysses S. Grant is.

A SIGNIFICANT CONTRAST.—Down in New Orleans a crowd of negroes, inflamed by the conduct of one of their own number who purposed to deprive them of the right of suffrage, behaved badly, but were promptly dispersed by a few words from the Governor, who told them that it was the duty of all citizens to protect the right of free speech which is dear to every citizen. How many white mobs, whether of abolitionist hangers before the war, or secessionists during the war, would have listened to reason so readily? How long would it have taken Governor Warmoth or any other speaker, no matter how gifted or popular to sway by calm reasoning the mob by which the New Orleans Convention of 1866 was massacred? The question follows—and all the Democratic sneers in the world will not answer it—are not these men who quietly disperse, when reminded of their duty as citizens to protect free speech, quite as fit to vote as those who massacred the convention and murdered Dostie?—St Louis Democrat.

BLAIR.—The New York Nation says:

The nomination of Frank Blair for Vice President is one of those singular freaks into which the necessities of a party sometimes lead it. A Western soldier was wanted for the place, and almost every prominent soldier at the west is in favor of Grant. The ridiculous names of McClernand and Ewing, the only ones mentioned besides that of Blair, show the straits to which the party was reduced. Gen Blair's military record is respectable, but his political vagaries have made him one of the most utterly uninfluential men in the country. He brings no popular strength [illegible] the support of the ticket, and will [illegible] many votes from it.

"Reposing in the Intelligence of the People"

The dishonesty and hypocrisy of the Democratic platform are manifest in every proposition it contains, though nowhere more clearly than in the following resolution

That the public lands should be distributed as widely among the people as possible, and should be disposed of either under the pre-emption and homestead laws or sold in reasonable quantities and to none but actual occupants, at the minimum price established by the Government.

Think of a National Democratic Convention adopting as one of its mottoes a demand for "lands for the landless" For a party which has opposed by every means in its power a "distribution of the public lands among the people," and which delayed and prevented for years the passage of homestead laws, designed to give lands to "actual occupants"—for such a party to adopt a resolution like the above, assuming to be the champions of the scheme and virtually alleging that the Republicans are hostile to it, —is frosty indeed.

This doctrine is now for the first time incorporated in a Democratic platform The Republicans had it in their national platform in 1860, and struggled for the doctrine until 1862, when they finally got it established by law. All this time the Democrats vehemently opposed the measure, and it was finally passed through Congress and made a law in spite of their opposition

The bill to secure free homesteads and to "distribute the public lands as widely among the people as possible" was first introduced in Congress in January, 1859, by Galusha A Grow, a leading Republican Congressman from Pennsylvania. It passed the House in spite of Democratic opposition: but the Senate, being controlled by a Democratic majority, refused to pass it In March, 1860, the bill was again introduced in the House and passed, every Republican member voting for it and nearly every Democratic member against it. Again the bill went to the Senate, and again the proposition to grant free homesteads to the people failed. In December, 1860, Grow again brought the bill up in the House, but the Democratic members in both branches of Congress consumed all the time of the session in asserting and arguing for the right of secession Again, in 1861, the Republicans with their [illegible] ardor, renewed the struggle for the bill, and the following year they finally got it through Congress, and it became a law by receiving the signature of President Lincoln The votes of the Democratic Senator and Representative from Oregon were recorded against the bill at the time of its passage, in company with the votes of the other members of their party who were then in Congress. This is a short sketch of the long struggle for free homesteads which took place in the national legislature. The bill never became a law until the Republicans obtained control of both Houses of Congress, and had the Executive with them.

The Democratic platform begins by declaring that the party "reposes its trust in the intelligence, patriotism and discriminating justice of the people." This resolution in favor of free homesteads, considered with reference to the long continued opposition of that party to a "distribution of the public lands among the people," indicates the extent of the party's [illegible] in a discriminating and enlightened public judgment. As the Stockton Independent has it, the Democracy build on the basis of their resolution concerning the public lands the following syllogistic superstructure. The Homestead law is wise, just and founded in sound policy. It was originated, advocated and [illegible] by Republicans, while democracy uniformly opposed it, therefore: The intelligent, patriotic and justly discriminating citizens who admire that law and believe in its principles ought to oppose the Republican party, and "unite with us in the present great struggle," etc.!!

The Newcastle (Ky.) Constitutionalist has this paragraph, referring to Humphrey Marshall "The Democracy of Henry county are clamorous for this distinguished gentleman to make the race for Congress in this district. The people, old and young, are for him. Will he make the race? Henry county has determined to run him. Let the precincts look to this in the appointment of [illegible] dates" Certainly; Humphrey Marshall was one of the most malignant rebel Generals of the war, and of course the Democracy of Kentucky are anxious to send him to Congress Put up a Union General against him, and the Union man would be beaten out of sight.

CORRECTION.—In an article published yesterday it was stated that during the last three years the national debt had been reduced $267,000,000, and that in addition to this, $535,000,000 of debts of various kinds had been paid. These last figures should read $268,000,000. The total sum of [illegible] growing mainly out of the rebellion, which have been paid during the last three years, is $535,000,000.

The political union of the Southern rebels and Northern Democrats accords with the fitness of things. The former held that they had the right to secede, and the latter held that the Government had no right to prevent them. Both stood, then as now, on the "time-honored principles."

One significant fact in connection with the recent Democratic National Convention has not yet been mentioned in public, namely, that every delegate in that convention from the Southern States was a secessionist. Not one of the entire number had been a loyal man during the war

"The war is over," said a Seymourite the other day to a one armed soldier who was turning a handorgan in Union Park "It may be over to you," said the brave boy in blue, lifting up his stump, "but it is'nt over a good deal, to me" The Copperhead vamosed

The Stockton Gazette pronounces Grant a "Blockhead, drunkard, butcher, falsifier, violator of law and trust, and the tool of spoon-thieves, grave-robbers, and traitors" Every one of those epithets costs the Democratic party a vote.

The Columbus Journal says "The last act of the rebels, before the war, was to vote the Democratic ticket. As there was but one step from Democracy into rebellion, there was but one step from rebellion back into democracy"

The Canton (Miss) Mail has gone into pathetics it says to the negro "Don't tread on us! Don't insult us by trampling down the olive branch we offer We beseech you this last time—don't tread on us"

The Southern Democratic papers hoist the "stars and bars" over the Democratic nominations This is proper. Seymour will see stars before he gets through, and Blair knows already all the bars in the country.

Affairs in South Carolina.

COLUMBIA, Aug. 31.—The Governor to day issued a circular relative to armed organizations and the introduction of arms into the State He disapproves both and calls on all persons to keep the peace, and says he will exercise all his authority for that purpose.

Great Fires in Canada.

TORONTO, Aug 31—Terrible fires have again broken out in the woods. On the Northern Railway on Saturday night, the station at Sunnidale caught fire, and in a short time the entire village, embracing twenty five or thirty houses, was in ashes The inhabitants were taken to Lowell and well cared for. The railway track was destroyed for several miles The woods are still burning Other villages are in imminent danger.

A Point of Etiquette.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—The Paris Press referring to the cheering on Farragut's flag ship for America and Russia on the occasion of the reception of the Turkish Minister at Constantinople, says The representatives of other foreign powers construed this partiality for Russia into a slight of their countries The Press desires an explanation

Dispatch from Montreal.

MONTREAL, Aug 31—A picnic is advertised to be held on Tuesday for the benefit of Wheelan and other prisoners at Ottawa A proclamation was posted last night, urging all loyal citizens to muster on Tuesday next to prevent the Fenian display. B. Devlin, a leading Irishman of this city who opposed McGee, and who has won the reputation of being a Fenian, denounces the picnic and says it would materially weaken the Fenian cause. The affair causes intense excitement. The Fenians denounce Devlin as a traitor A riot is feared and the authorities will suppress the picnic.

Notable Reformation.

NEW YORK, Aug 31—Allen, "the wickedest man in New York," who has been preparing for reform, made up his mind on Saturday to close his Water street dance house. He has recently attended the Howard street Mission Church and is now devoutly engaged in prayer Last week he held a prayer meeting in his old Water street den

VIENNA, Aug. 30.—The Minister of Justice has notified the civil courts that in case the clergy refuse the necessary certificates for civil marriages, they must be forced to comply by legal process.

FLORENCE, Aug 30—Garibaldi resigned his seat in the National Parliament.

LONDON, Aug 30—Accounts of recent events on the Parana have been received from Paraguay. The Paraguayans claimed that the allies received severe shocks in the two battles of the 13th and 18th of July The fortress was subsequently evacuated without the knowledge of the enemy. All the heavy guns were spiked and the arms, ammunition and stores removed

The Paris Patrie has advices from Paraguay which explain that Humaita was abandoned because Lopez had completed a new defensive line of fortifications. The Paraguayans were confident that the allies though holding the river would not attempt to enter into the country It was brought to an end by the lassitude of the combined powers.

LONDON, Aug. 30.—The possibility of war on the continent is more and more discussed by leading European journals. The opinion is generally expressed that Prussia, though ready for war, really desires peace, but that to Austria and Prussia peace is indispensable; that the French Emperor is now undoubtedly prepared for a conflict, but his policy is uncertain. The Liberal, of Toulon, says that Marshal Neil, who is on a visit to that city, told the Council General that the army was animated by the best of spirits, that its armament was complete and its arsenals were full of material, the financial resources of the Empire were inexhaustible as compared with other powers, France alone was equally ready for peace or war. Some people think that the necessity for diverting the discontent of certain classes in France may cause the Emperor to adopt a war-like policy. They say the election by so large a majority of the Liberal candidate in the Department of Jury is a manifestation of general disaffection on the part of the students of the medical schools and universities in Paris.

The great success of the Lantern, and the great wide spread indignation over its suppression are signs of the public temper sufficient to alarm the Emperor. Added to these are circumstances, the expense of keeping an abnormal amendment on foot and the encouragement to war by the success of the last war. There is reason to expect war in autumn or spring. Corroborations of this view is sought in the recent leading editorial of the Constitutional, urging the claims of the Empress Eugenie to the Regency. It is anticipated that the Emperor might have to lead the army and be exposed to the perils of the field. To offset to this foreboding there are official pledges of peace daily made and advices given to capitalists to act as if assured of peace, and the argument so frequently urged by the French Government, "That the completing of the amendment is a guarantee of peace,"

The European Crops.

Different statements have been made at various times concerning the amount of cereals produced in Europe this year, and widely different estimates have been presented of the probable amount of breadstuffs which it will be necessary to import into Europe to supply the deficiencies of the harvest The Sacramento Union in a recent article surveys the field and sums up the case very comprehensively, and as the farmers of Oregon have an interest in the matter equal to those of California, we present the Union's remarks and conclusions

The New York Times of August 7th and the Tribune of the 11th contain leading editorials on the European harvest and the probable English demand for American surplus They both agree that the drouth in England has been unusually severe—there having been not a drop of rain in many of the best agricultural counties—including Yorkshire, Suffolk, the west coast, Warwickshire and the east coast of Scotland—from the 30th of May to the 1st of August. They also agree that this drouth has extended over many of the grain countries of Europe and caused short crops of cereals in parts of France, inferring this as the motive of the Emperor in decreeing free importations of grain in all the ports of France for three months, beginning with October 1st The telegrams and mail news from Liverpool between the 1st and 10th of the present month are discredited. The market abroad for American grain will be this year probably much greater than that of last, when the United States furnished to England alone $40,000,000 worth of food, including twelve and a third million bushels of wheat and half a million barrels of flour, at prices which enabled our California farmers to pocket thirty to forty per cent more for their surplus than the present market price in San Francisco. The total importation of food to England last year was about $450,000,000 worth, It will exceed that in value this year, and there is no probability that the demand can be supplied in greater amount than last year from any other part of the world than the United States. The New York Times and Tribune both think the surplus of the Western States will this year be greatly in excess of last year's but they also concur in the belief that the European demand will be greater and enough greater to absorb our surplus at prices equal to those paid for our crop of 1867 The Times, from the present aspect of the European harvest, and from the representations recently made by the Mark Lane Express (the British agricultural authority) of the effects of the drouth in England, feels justified in assuming that the telegrams sent from Liverpool two or three weeks ago, giving accounts of favorable crops in Europe, were sent to mislead farmers and cause them to sell at depressed prices In other words, that the dispatches were put up by a combination of grain speculators to swindle producers We concur in this view and as California has this year about twelve million centrals of surplus wheat, it is a matter which concerns our farmers to the aggregate amount of $3 600,000, whether they sell now at $1 70 or hold on for $2 per cental, which they will be pretty sure to realize by the 10th or 15th of September, unless all present indications are greatly deceptive We think last year's crop averaged $2 30 per cental The crop this year will be fifty per cent heavier, and it ought to average as good prices to the farmers If they sell 12 000 000 centals at $1 70 they will divide but $20 400,000, but if they can realize an average of $2 30 they will divide $27 600,000, or $7 200 000 more than the combination of speculators intended they should obtain

Where Democracy obtains its greatest triumphs ignorance and vice prevails to a much greater extent than in other places New York City with its hoards of thieves and beggars and its hundreds of thousands of degraded beings rotting in cellars and wallowing in filth, is the most "democratic city in the Union And a little to the north of the City Hall, in what is sometimes called the 'Five Points,' where hundreds of greasy half nude creatures pile into every cellar like so many swine, to sleep, or thrust their vermin covered heads out of every window from the basement to the sixth story, "democracy" has a majority of ten to one

There were 37 rebel officers of high rank in the New York Convention.

We hear of a great many accidents caused by firing salutes in honor of the nomination of Seymour and Blair We wonder there are not more The poor fellows who undertake to handle the guns were hid in swamps or lost in Canada when the gun drill was being taught and are, of course, green, awkward, and dangerous—to themselves

THE CHRONICLES.

And it came to pass in the third year of the reign of George the Third, who was ruler over the land of Webfoot that the news went throughout all the land that KOHN & FISHEL at No. 91 Front street, Portland were selling Dry Goods and Clothing at fabulously low prices. And all the people heard it and they straightway came unto that place and when they had demanded the price at KOHN & FISHEL'S store they marvelled and said. It hath not been told us for here we can buy all kinds of clothing and Dry Goods for ourselves our wives and our little ones much cheaper than at any other place in all the land of Webfoot. And from that day even until now the people have come in great numbers to buy their goods of KOHN & FISHEL

ANOTHER SMALL POX CASE.—It is said that another case of small pox was developed in this city yesterday—one of the men who has been at work in one of the shops adjoining the house where the first patient was placed. If it be true that he has contracted the horrible contagion, it must be certain that he has had it thrust upon him by the reprehensible act of the parties who placed the man next door to him without warning. It is said that he has been much alarmed about taking the disease and it may be that his fears have assisted to some extent in bringing upon him the sickness he has so much sought to avoid. However this may be, it seems now that there is a fair [illegible] of the spread of the disease. The man having been about every day among various people, it will be difficult to know who has or has not been already infected by him. The disease may next appear in the most unexpected quarter and be again scattered more widely. Should it become quite general, people will have the city authorities to thank in a great measure, for the inestimable public blessing. Had the Marshal acted as promptly in moving the first patient to the outskirts of the city as did Marshal Hoyt, when the case of two years ago appeared, it is unquestionable that the liability to the spread of the disease would have been greatly limited. We are not fully advised as to what was the precise disposition of Mr Lappeus in the matter of the immediate removal of the patient from the public place in which he had been clandestinely left, but it is notorious now that the city authorities who ought to have acted promptly even on the slenderest authority, set at once about the business of finding out how they had no authority to act and how nothing can be done. They succeeded in not finding any warrant for removing the man though his presence in the midst of a populous district constituted a nuisance of a most fearful character. When a sick Chinaman is found in a deserted house without any [illegible] disease and where nobody is particularly [illegible] beyond the risk attendant upon inhaling the miasma of physical decay the authorities somehow find a way very soon, to have him removed. The public health [illegible] it, and the public health must be cared for. It [illegible] strange, however, to the uninitiated how the anxiety of the officers to preserve the health of the public, does spur them on to zealous and practical activity in the one case and not in the other. In the case of the small pox, Marshal Lappeus had as much authority as Marshal Hoyt, in 1866. There is ordinance No 123, passed Sept. 24, 1862, and never repealed, which provides as follows:

Section 1 That the City Marshal be and he is hereby [illegible] to procure, at the cost of the city a suitable [illegible] at or near the outskirts of the city, for the purpose of a small pox hospital; the selection to be subject to the approval of the committee on Health and Police.

Sec. 2. That said Marshal be and he is further required to have removed without delay to said hospital all small pox [illegible] that may hereafter occur in this city

Sec. 3. That the City Marshal is hereby required to procure suitable medical aid and other attendance for such [illegible], together with proper food, bedding, etc

The above ordinance is published among the codified [illegible] of the city. Marshal Hoyt acted under it when he built a hospital and removed a patient to it, and the Council approved his action and ordered paid all the bills, in whole or in part. The present administration which has sharp scented after sick and dead Chinamen, [illegible] could find no warrant under this ordinance for do[illegible]. They, with one breath of legal construction, puffed it into nothing and then inquired with an air of [illegible] anxiety, "where is the authority of law?" They say, "it is not a continuing law and only directory in the [illegible] of 1862" But granting that it is a debatable [illegible] whether the ordinance is directory to [illegible] Marshal, that officer ought to have taken the [illegible] of removing the patient, trusting to the [illegible] of the Council and the people to sustain him [illegible] would have sustained him. He could not have [illegible] risk. He had the color of law at least, and [illegible] for action. If it were absolutely certain [illegible] was no authority, the Council should have supplied it instead of referring the matter to [illegible] commissioners who will not meet till next [illegible] two weeks from the time the reference was [illegible] the spectacle of a terrible contagion [illegible] a populous neighborhood without warning, of [illegible] of city police with the Mayor at the head [illegible] doing nothing and proving that they cannot [illegible] a City Council to whose attention this [illegible] has been called referring the matter to [illegible] meets the whole batch studying [illegible] not to do it." The whole affair is an [illegible] the public, which cannot be excused by [illegible] of authority.

MAIL AND EXPRESS ROBBERS.—Last evening [illegible] of Umatilla, Deputy U S Marshal, [illegible] of Union county, accompanied by [illegible], Postal Agent, arrived at this city, [illegible] two prisoners charged with complicity, [illegible] in the mail and express robbery [illegible] on the Blue mountain road. They [illegible] on the 28th ult., in Grand Ronde valley [illegible] by R. Wilcox, U S Commissioner, [illegible] of the Postal Agent. The names [illegible] of the arrest are withheld for the [illegible] that other arrests are to be made. [illegible] are now seven men under arrest here [illegible] in the above-mentioned robbery [illegible] two were brought down last Saturday and Deputy Marshal Seitel of Walla [illegible] of the 28th ult., has the following: "Two men named John [illegible] Baily, were arrested at an early hour [illegible] last, and without examination [illegible] These men, as we are informed, [illegible] received from Portland, [illegible] to be connected with a regularly organized [illegible] The man Billings had only been [illegible] a week or two, and had been in [illegible] as a farm hand. He came into [illegible] and had taken rooms at Chism's [illegible] other man, named Bailey, came [illegible] from La Grande, where he had [illegible] bar-tender. On coming to Walla [illegible] employment from C P Winesett as a [illegible] at the Oriental Hotel. He was [illegible] his bed on Wednesday morning [illegible] nervous excitement when told he was [illegible] was arrested on the street and took [illegible] He was very anxious to have an [illegible] being removed, and stated that he [illegible] had he known that he was to be de[illegible] The arrests in both instances were made [illegible] It is stated that Billings committed a [illegible] somewhere in the Lembi country [illegible] his victim, and then recollect[illegible] 'dead men tell no lies,' deliberately [illegible] that date he has committed sever[illegible] is for these latter off[illegible] he is re[illegible] authorities."

ITEMS. Several of our [illegible] have never seen in this country, such [illegible] now prevails. They are, however, slight [illegible] summer of 1857 was an example of [illegible] continued, besides which the present [illegible] insignificance. We remember [illegible] the atmosphere was so [illegible] with smoke from vast fires in the coast [illegible] of mountains as to create a sort of [illegible] people throughout almost the entire [illegible] from inflammation of the res[illegible] induced by inhalations of smoke, [illegible] influenza. The persons affected [illegible] labored breathing, slight cough and [illegible] We have heard some rather [illegible] about the effects of the smoke that sea[illegible] Yamhill averred that he actually had [illegible] by breathing the creosote floating [illegible] Another [illegible] that his throat became [illegible] that he has never been able since [illegible] between whisky and spring water [illegible] however, that he has tried the latter [illegible] years, and there is a bare possibility [illegible] as to the present intelligent sense [illegible] are only specimens of the [illegible] and afterward common, when the [illegible] discussion. We cannot conscientiously [illegible] truth of either story, but they will [illegible] the deep impression made upon people's [illegible] thick darkness which prevailed [illegible] certainly been nothing to equal the [illegible] The [illegible] on both banks of the [illegible] the Coast range both north and south [illegible] fire the conflagration being furi[illegible] and we may therefore look for the [illegible] more dense and it may possibly be [illegible] as in 1857.

We have not yet been able to meet with [illegible], but a gentleman who has [illegible] with him on railroad matters, [illegible] informed him that the Union Pacific [illegible] has already instituted measures look[illegible] start of a branch from their road to the [illegible] It is understood that one or more of [illegible] now engaged in making preliminary ob[illegible] try to be traversed. The gentle[illegible] we get our information says that it is [illegible] proposition will be received [illegible] about the beginning of the sea[illegible]. We do not think that anything [illegible] than that both the Union and the Central will, the moment their present roads [illegible] their attention, each to an Oregon road [illegible] want the fertile valleys of Oregon and [illegible] and cities as feeders to their roads [illegible] their wants and interests, we shall have our [illegible]

Dr. O. P. S. Plummer, telegraph operator [illegible] of his appointment to be super[illegible] telegraph district embracing the line [illegible] and Callahan's Ranch, California [illegible] the line between this city and Marysville [illegible] under the superintendency of [illegible] For the purpose of facilitating dispatches [illegible] and Oregon, and to render them more [illegible] of the year, the district has been [illegible] being assigned as above and Mr. [illegible] the district between Callahan's and Marys[illegible] This division will greatly promote the certainty [illegible] of the dispatches as Dr Plummer will be [illegible] at or near Roseburg in the midst of a tract of [illegible] most of the obstructions in the winter time.

[illegible] WANTED.—Capt Turnbull of the Fannie [illegible] says that if this smoky weather continues, there [illegible] be need for about thirty-seven lighthouses or [illegible] bells along the Willamette river, to [illegible] to find their way up and down. In [illegible] when the fog is superadded to smoke, the [illegible] to the vision is almost total. We learn that [illegible] was delayed nearly two hours by [illegible] yesterday morning.

CLACKAMAS PAPER MILLS.—These mills will commence [illegible] of paper regularly on Thursday. It is [illegible] by the proprietors to manufacture all the grades of printing, and manilla and straw wrapping papers. Printing paper will be first made.

RACE AT THE RIVERSIDE TRACK.—A race for a sweepstake purse will come off to morrow afternoon, at five o'clock, over this track. Entrance $25. B B Acker [illegible] b m. Pauline. O Dimmick b h. Waterloo, W [illegible] Wells, blk h Savage.

"HELP THOSE WOMEN."—This evening in the basement of the Presbyterian Church will be held the semi monthly sociable, to which all are cordially invited. The good [illegible] so long promised, is surely expected to be there.

HOW THEY DO IT.—Some unsophisticated Webfoot having expressed wonder at the great number of newspapers which live and have a being on Puget Sound, the Olympia Transcript explains. It is just as easy as falling off of a log. The publishers all set their own type, and being amiable cusses, all help one another in a snap. It don't cost anything to print a paper only for blank paper and ink and the people being civilized over here pay enough to buy them. As for eating when common victuals run out, they go for clams. As for clothes they need scarcely any in this climate and generally manage to borrow an ugh old ones of their friends. As for pocket money they don't need any and don't have it if they do. It is the easiest place in the world to publish a newspaper and we are not surprised at our Webfoot friends at not appreciating it.

STREET RAILROAD.—Mr Price, one of the proprietors of the First street railroad scheme showed us, yesterday the list of petitioners to the City Council for the right of way. The names now appended represent 6,139 feet of frontage on the street being considerably more than half of all. The total amount of frontage as Mr Price informs us, is about 1400 feet. Of those whose names are not appended nearly all are temporarily absent from town and have not been consulted. Only two real estate owners to whom the petition has been presented have refused to sign. It seems probable that not less than two thirds of all the property fronting on the street will be represented upon the petition.

SOIREE.—The regular semi monthly first class soiree given by the pupils of Prof Cardwell will take place at his Dancing Academy this evening. A pleasant time and a merry one may be expected.

AFTERNOON STEAMER.—The Rescue will leave Portland for Oregon City at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

STANLEY'S MINSTRELS are still giving nightly entertainments at the Union Hall.

GLITTERING TEETH.—Not only does SOZODONT impart the whiteness of the purest porcelain to the teeth but its polish too. They glisten after being brushed with it like the inner surface of an ocean shell and the effect of this peerless dentifrice is to render the enamel as hard and indestructible as a diamond.

Save and mend the pieces use "SPALDING'S GLUE."

THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE says the reason why PLANTATION BITTERS are so generally used is owing to the fact that they are always made up to the original standard, and of pure material, let the price be what it will. The Tribune just hits the nail on the head, for PLANTATION BITTERS are not only made of pure material, but the people are told what they are made of, as the receipt is wrapped around each bottle. Don't go home without a bottle.

Growing Reputation.—If the entire correspondence from South America, Central America and the West Indies, received by Messrs Hostetter & Smith, during the last twelve months, were published at length, it would probably be considered one of the most extraordinary collections of approbatory testimony on record. The letters, written in every variety of style, and emanating from individuals of almost every class, are, nevertheless, all of the same tenor. Physicians, priests, merchants, planters, military officers, artisans, lawyers &c, tell one story, admitting, without reserve or qualification, that the tonics heretofore in use in those regions have been generally and justly superseded by HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

The confidence manifested by the people of these countries might be fairly called enthusiastic. Yet these are not the only tokens of the growing popularity of

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

The foreign orders for the article from Europe, Australia, New Zealand, China, Japan, East Indies, Cape of Good Hope, Sandwich Islands, &c, have been heavier than at any former period.

As an antidote to malaria, a stomachic and general invigorant they all testify to its remarkable efficacy.

G. VENARD,
CHARTRES COFFEE!
Manufactory Established in June, 1851.
STEAM POWER, NOS 625 AND 627 FRONT ST

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.

The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS.
Each package bears the signature of G. VENARD.

Are the Children at Home?

Each day when the glow of sunset
Fades in the Western sky
And the wee ones tired of playing
Go tripping lightly by
I steal away from my husband
Asleep in his easy chair
And watch from the open doorway
Their faces fresh and fair

Alone in the dear old house
That once was full of life
Ringing with girlish laughter
Echoing boyish strife
We two are waiting together
And oft as the shadows come
With tremulous voice he calls me,
It is night are the children home

Yes love I answer him gently
They're all home long ago —
And I sing, in my quivering treble
A song so soft and low
Till the old man drops to slumber
With his head upon his hand
And I tell to myself the number
Home in a better land

Home, where never a sorrow
Shall dim their eyes with tears!
Where the smile of God is on them,
Through all the Summer years!
I know! — yet my arms are empty,
That fondly folded seven,
And the mother heart within me
Is almost starved for heaven

Sometimes in the dusk of evening,
I only shut my eyes
And the children are all about me,
A vision from the skies
The babes whose dimpled fingers
Lost the way to my breast,
And the beautiful ones the angels
Passed to the world of the blessed.

With never a cloud upon them
I see their radiant brows
My boys that I gave to freedom —
The red sword sealed their vows!
In a tangled Southern forest,
Twin brothers, bold and brave,
They fell; and the flag they died for,
Thank God! floats over their grave.

A breath, and the vision is lifted
Away on wings of light,
And again we two are together,
All alone in the night
They tell me his mind is failing,
But I smile at idle fears
He is only back with the children,
In the dear and peaceful years

And still, as the summer sunset
Fades away in the West,
And the wee ones, tired of playing,
Go triping home to rest,
My husband calls from his corner,
"Say, love! have the children come?"
And I answer with eyes uplifted,
"Yes, dear! they are all at home!"

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr Gibbon's Dispensary,

616 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL San Francisco Established 1864 for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases such as Gonorrhea Gleet Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms Seminal Weakness Impotency, etc Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated

Horrible Diseases

How many thousands of persons both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgence or from virus absorbed into the system Look at their pallid emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene Let parents guardians friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it is too late Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs It is important to those who are afflicted or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions the consequence of self abuse This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz Sallow countenance dark spots under the eyes pain in the head, ringing in the ears noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence diffidence in approaching strangers a dislike to form new acquaintances a disposition to shun society loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face furred tongue, fetid breath coughs consumption night sweats monomania and frequent insanity If relief be not obtained should apply immediately either in person or by letter and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure Dr G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible and will give to each patient a written instrument binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure or make no charge

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr Gibbon stating case, symptoms length of time the disease has continued and have medicines promptly forwarded free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country with full and plain directions for use for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells Fargo & Co

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who with bogus sworn to certificates dupe the unwary Some of the self styled doctors whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places are tradesmen and became too lazy to work at their trades Some are tinsmiths shoemakers, newspaper carriers intelligence office keepers etc Look over the San Francisco Directory and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it but you will find their former occupations in it Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863 The only way to avoid imposition is to make enquiry—It will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets for as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten, are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are Dr Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles certificates pretended patient's letters, etc Dr Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure

The above rules, [illegible] by Dr. J. C. Young [illegible] and which have done [illegible] to secure the reputation [illegible] Institute, are still [illegible] affording those in [illegible] medical aid, the ce[illegible] cure and the utmost [illegible]

There is nothing of [illegible] importance to the a[illegible] know where to find a [illegible] cian whose skill and [illegible] give assurance of p[illegible] delicate treatment. [illegible] tor would respectfully [illegible] attention of those of [illegible] who are suffering or [illegible] to the invariable s[illegible] has marked the ca[illegible] Institute in the seve[illegible] of its existence.

It is unnecessary in [illegible] nection to enumerate [illegible] complaints treated at [illegible] stitute, but the Doct[illegible] his duty to call especi[illegible] tion to that terrible [illegible]

SEMINAL WEAK[illegible]

That is sapping with [illegible] sidiousness the very [illegible] victims; in the treat[illegible] cure of which the I[illegible] earned so enviable a [illegible] tion.

READ! READ [illegible]

I am aware that by dwelling upon [illegible] ject as the decay of manly vigor [illegible] vital principle of life, the ignorant [illegible] tive, but the desire to point out to [illegible] guish and decay the true [illegible] grant as I [illegible] tive to be forced into [illegible] tended the terrible disease of [illegible] one but the practical [illegible] treatment can tell, but its [illegible] the most inexperienced by noting the [illegible] toms. Weakness of the back and [illegible] feelings, loss of muscular power; [illegible] cold feet or hands, accompanied by hot [illegible] of consumption; short breath, [illegible] sion to society, confusion of the [illegible] nightly emissions; colorless; slight [illegible] least excitement trembling; palpi[illegible] regular appetite variable temper, etc.

YOUNG MAN, if you experience any [illegible] symptoms enumerated above, pause [illegible] present is the golden moment in [illegible] health and happiness You may feel [illegible] you have ever practiced the vice of [illegible] SLIGHTEST DEGREE, you have the seeds of [illegible] system and their undermining influence [illegible] or later, dash the fair edifice of your [illegible] ground, leaving you a helpless, [illegible] disease that declares itself at once.
